FORM – A4

CONFIDENTIALITY CLAUSE

This Confidentiality Clause is entered into as of the Application date of this FORM by and between INTERNATIONAL ARMOUR and the Applicant.

1. Confidential Obligations:

Both parties (the "Parties"), acknowledge that because of their relationship under this agreement, each may disclose to the other specific confidential and proprietary business, technical, or financial information belonging to the disclosing Party (the “Confidential Information”). Confidential Information shall include, but not be limited to, product specifications, data, know-how, formulas, compositions, processes, designs, sketches, photographs, graphs, drawings, samples, inventions, marketing plans, customer lists, financial information, sales and profit figures, and any other information identified as confidential by either Party in writing.

2. Non-Disclosure and Non-Use:

The receiving Party agrees not to use any Confidential Information disclosed to it by the disclosing Party for its own use or for any purpose except to carry out discussions concerning, and the undertaking of, the relationship between the Parties. The receiving Party will not disclose or permit disclosure of Confidential Information to third parties or to employees of the receiving Party, except employees who are required to have the information to perform their job duties in connection with the limited purposes of this agreement. Each Party agrees that it shall take all reasonable steps to ensure that Confidential Information is not disclosed or distributed by its employees or agents in violation of the terms of this agreement.

3. Maintenance of Confidentiality:

The receiving Party agrees to take all reasonable measures to protect the secrecy of and avoid disclosure or use of Confidential Information of the disclosing Party to prevent it from falling into the public domain or possessing unauthorized persons. The receiving Party shall return all copies of Confidential Information received from the disclosing Party, or destroy all such copies, at the request of the disclosing Party and certify in writing that all materials have been returned or destroyed.

4. Exclusions from Confidential Information:

Confidential Information does not include information that (i) is or becomes publicly known through no wrongful act of the receiving Party; (ii) is already in the possession of the receiving Party without obligation of confidentiality before obtaining it from the disclosing Party; (iii) is obtained by the receiving Party from a third party without a breach of such third Party’s obligations of confidentiality; (iv) is independently developed by the receiving Party without use of or reference to the disclosing Party’s Confidential Information; or (v) the receiving Party is required by law or regulation to disclose, provided that the receiving Party gives the disclosing Party reasonable advance notice to contest such requirement.

5. Term of Confidentiality:

The Parties’ duty to maintain the confidentiality of the Confidential Information remains in effect for 24 months after the date of disclosure.

Upon termination or expiration of this agreement or written request of the disclosing Party, the receiving Party shall promptly return to the disclosing Party all documents, notes, and other tangible materials representing the disclosing Party’s Confidential Information and all copies thereof.

This Confidentiality Clause shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties and their respective successors and assigns.

This Clause is to be interpreted by the laws of the European Union, and any disputes or litigation arising hereunder shall be subject to the exclusive Court of Justice of the European Union.
